

D [REDACTED] visit 6th August 2018 (never arrived)

S [REDACTED] Va [REDACTED] telephoned at approximately 10 am this morning saying it was planned that D [REDACTED] would be coming home today. I told S [REDACTED] said it was supposed to be every couple of weeks and he wouldn't be able to come today as I had appointments for the car MOT etc., and we had already arranged for her to visit at 1400 pm with someone from [REDACTED] Care to assess mum's needs for extra care.

P [REDACTED] phoned me at approximately 13.15 pm chasing up D [REDACTED]'s home visit, we discussed that I said it was planned for every couple of weeks for two hours, P [REDACTED] thought we agreed every week for two hours for a month. Having not been able to do all I had planned after the MOT I said D [REDACTED] could come home for 1400 pm. I also stressed that visits had become more restricted and controlled, not as and when D [REDACTED] or his mother and I wanted.

S [REDACTED] V [REDACTED] arrived at our mothers at approximately 14.00 pm with [REDACTED] from [REDACTED] Care, to discuss mum's needed increase to her care package, this to hopefully assist in helping mum get used of carers without so much support from me. We arrange hours and S [REDACTED] asked about D [REDACTED]'s desktop PC and whether I wanted her to take it. I said it would be best for her to take it as D [REDACTED] has been without his PC since September 2017 when it was damaged at [REDACTED] House and he needs it. I carried the boxed PC, keyboard, webcam and instruction on how to plug it in to S [REDACTED]'s car, a Black VW Passat, and loaded it in the boot; we chatted for a little time and S [REDACTED] left to make the necessary arrangements for mum and the return of the PC to D [REDACTED].

D [REDACTED] did not arrive while S [REDACTED] was her or afterwards.
