

22. The complainant states he has submitted a Subject Access Request ('SAR') and raised a concern with the Information Commissioner's Office in the belief it was that organisation who dealt with such data collection and matters, and they accepted the case for investigation. He complains that they provided an inconclusive decision on the 9th of March 2023 without allowing him to provide further evidence. However, this is irrelevant in relation to the present claim in respect of the use of RIPA powers.
23. The Tribunal has not been directed to any policy held by the respondent in respect of its one off, or repeated viewing or monitoring of social media/websites. Nonetheless, for the reasons stated above the Tribunal does not consider that the actions taken by
